> NO. 4-WAND EXERCISES WITH A BROOM. By Pauline Furlong.

The Evening World's Authority on All Questions of Woman's Physical Well Being.

My regular readers will remember the various exercises with a wand, which were illustrated and describes during July, and I am to-day showing you the possibility of using the ordinary kitchen broom in its stead. It may weigh a trifle more, but this fact will rather add to its usefulness as a muscle builder.

Those who have used the excuse to themselves that they did not have a wand and were too busy to get one, may now look up the back numbers of my series and begin these interesting and beneficial movements with the broom. Thus we add just a little more to our home gymnasium.

The wand exercises are especially recommended where you are desirous of playing directly on the muscles of the chest, upper arms, shoulders and waist. They are not so strenuous as the chest raising, and the
